

Public Interest Disclosure Policy

1 Purpose

To establish the principles for how the University deals with a disclosure of Information about suspected wrongdoing in the public sector.

2 Scope

This policy applies to Information disclosures conforming to the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010.

3 Policy Statement

The University is committed to fostering an ethical, transparent culture. In pursuit of this commitment, the University values the disclosure of Information about suspected wrongdoing in the public sector so that it can be properly assessed and, if necessary, properly investigated. The University will provide support to an Employee or others who make disclosures about matters in the public interest. This policy demonstrates this commitment and ensures that practical and effective procedures are implemented which comply with the requirements of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010.

4 Principles

By complying with the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010 the University will:

- promote the public interest by facilitating Public Interest Disclosures of wrongdoing;
- ensure that Public Interest Disclosures are properly assessed and, where appropriate, investigated and dealt with;
- ensure appropriate consideration is given to the interests of persons who are the subject of a Public Interest Disclosure; and
- ensure protection from Reprisal is afforded to persons making Public Interest Disclosures.

As required under the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010, the Vice-Chancellor will establish procedures to ensure that:

- any Employee who makes a Public Interest Disclosure is given appropriate support;
- Public Interest Disclosures made to the University are properly assessed and, where appropriate, properly investigated and dealt with;
- appropriate action is taken in relation to any wrongdoing which is the subject of a Public Interest Disclosure;
- a management program for Public Interest Disclosures made to the University, consistent with the standards issued by the Queensland Ombudsman, is developed and implemented; and
- Employees who make Public Interest Disclosures are offered protection from Reprisal by the University or other Employees of the University.

The University's Public Interest Disclosure Procedure is available for public viewing as detailed in Section 7 of this policy. The Public Interest Disclosure Procedure will be reviewed annually and updated as required to ensure it meets the requirements of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010 and the standards issued by the Queensland Ombudsman.

The Vice-Chancellor has designated the roles and responsibilities for implementing the procedures to manage Public Interest Disclosures within the University in the Public Interest Disclosure Procedure.
